

WOULD CALL CONFERENCE TO REGULATE EMIGRATION

Representative Bonyne Has Introduced Measure in Congress Along Lines Suggested in President's Message.

An effort will be made at this session of Congress to secure the passage of a bill to enable President Roosevelt to call an international conference for the purpose of securing an international agreement relative to the regulation of the emigration of aliens to the United States. Such a bill has been introduced in the House by Representative Bonyne of Colorado, and it has been referred to the Committee on Foreign Affairs. Mr. Bonyne will appear before the committee and argue in favor of a report on the bill, which will be made by the committee.

The bill authorizes the President to call, in his discretion, an international conference at such point as may be agreed upon "for the purpose of regulating by international agreement the emigration of aliens to the United States; providing for the mental, moral and physical examination of such aliens by American consuls or other officers of the United States Government at the ports of embarkation; to secure the assistance of foreign governments in the emigration of aliens to the United States; to enter into such international agreements as may be necessary or proper to prevent the emigration of aliens who, under the laws of the United States, are excluded from entering the United States; to prohibit, by international agreement, the rendering of assistance by foreign governments, municipalities, societies or corporations to the emigration of aliens to the United States and in general to enter into any and all international agreements for the regulation of all matters pertaining to such emigration."

The President is authorized to appoint five commissioners to this conference, but if he thinks better results can be obtained, he is empowered to appoint special envoys to visit foreign countries and negotiate agreements with them. To carry out the provisions of the act, an appropriation of $50,000 is made.

In line with this message, the President has recommended that a conference be called to regulate the emigration of aliens. This bill is in line with the recommendations made by President Roosevelt in his recent message to Congress. In touching upon the immigration question, the President said:

"It seems to me that there should be an international conference held to deal with this question of immigration, which has more than a merely national significance; such a conference could, among other things, enter at length into the methods for securing a thorough inspection of persons to be immigrants at the ports from which they embark before permitting them to embark."

Representative Bonyne has no assurance from the leaders of Congress that his bill will be put through, as he has not discussed the matter with them. But he proposes to go ahead and will do what he can to get it enacted into law. When seen today he said:

"The bill has been referred to the Foreign Affairs Committee and after the holidays I will appear before the committee and make an argument in favor of the passage of this bill. I have no reason to believe that the leaders will be either for or against it. I have not talked with the President on the subject, but from what he says in his message he will approve it."

Mr. Bonyne has also introduced a bill amending the immigration laws so that all immigrants will be imposed upon at present. The money raised by this tax is to be used by the Department of Commerce and Labor to defray the expense of maintaining a bureau of information that will have representatives at all the important ports of embarkation. These agents are to distribute information about the resources and climate of different sections of America, and the needs and demands for labor. The idea of the provision is to secure a distribution of immigrants and get them to go to those parts of the country where there is a demand for their labor instead of settling in the Eastern States and in the crowded cities. The bill also excludes from admission all aliens who are not mentally or physically fit to enter into any kind of living, or are afflicted with loathsome or contagious diseases, and it provides that heads of families having their own living, or are afflicted with loathsome or contagious diseases, must have at least $50 in money.

Educational Qualifications.

Senator Lodge has introduced a bill prescribing a reading test for all immigrants. Aliens coming into the country, under the provisions of his bill, must be able to read twenty-five words of the Constitution, printed either in English or in the language of the country from which the immigrant comes. There are other provisions which make it more difficult for the undesirable class of aliens to gain an entrance to the United States.

Practically the same bill has been introduced in the House by Representative Watson of Indiana. These and several other measures drawing the tighter the immigration laws have been introduced, and it is understood that others will follow. Whether action is had at this session on the immigration question is receiving attention at the hands of the legislators and the time is not yet ripe for proper restrictions will be imposed.
